

Tangled: The Science of Hair

5/25/2017 9:00:00 PM

1 Hour          Science          North 132BC

It's cuddly, it's curly, it gets coughed up by cats! Hair is a defining characteristic of mammals, although it varies considerably among species. Join our experts for this this hair raising discussion.

Teachers will discover resources for teaching the science of skin, scalp and hair health, current topics in physiology and discussion points for student engagement in popular culture.

Gwyneth Gordon, Assoc Research Scientist, School Of Earth and Space Exploration

Debra Nickelson, Veterinarian and MBA, Centaur Animal Health

Spencer Morrell, Gateway Community College, Adjunct Instructor